ABOUT THE HONOREES

Esther Safran Foer was the Executive Director and CEO of Sixth & I for ten years, where she led the creation of what the national media called “a new paradigm for Jewish life.” In 2008 Ms. Foer was recognized as one of the “Forward 50” Jewish leaders in the country and in 2015 she was named one of the most powerful women in Washington by Washingtonian magazine.

Prior to being recruited to Sixth & I by its founders, Ms. Foer spent most of her professional life in all aspects of the public relations profession, eventually running her own firm representing Fortune 500 companies. She was involved in politics as a state press secretary and state director for a major presidential campaign. She is the daughter of Holocaust survivors, the wife of Bert Foer (an attorney and public interest advocate), the mother of three sons who are all storytellers—Frank, Jonathan, and Joshua Foer— and the grandmother of eight.

Her post-Holocaust memoir, I Want You to Know We're Still Here, was a National Jewish Book Award finalist and named one of the best books of the year by NPR and the Religion News Service in 2020. It was also a BBC Radio book of the week. The book has been published in 9 languages.

Most recently, she deftly led the Museum as Board Chair when it first opened to the public in June 2023 and then as she navigated it through a time of flux, delivering it to success today.

David M. Rubenstein is an investor, philanthropist, interviewer, author, and historian. He is Co-Founder and Co-Chairman of The Carlyle Group, one of the world’s largest and most successful private investment firms. Mr. Rubenstein is a Baltimore native and is the Chairman, CEO, and principal owner of Major League Baseball’s Baltimore Orioles. A recipient of the Presidential Medal of Freedom, Mr. Rubenstein is Chairman of the Boards of the Council on Foreign Relations, the National Gallery of Art, the Economic Club of Washington, and the University of Chicago; a Trustee of Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, Johns Hopkins Medicine, the Institute for Advanced Study, the Brookings Institution, and the World Economic Forum; and a Director of Moderna, Inc. and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, among other board seats.

Mr. Rubenstein is a leader in the area of Patriotic Philanthropy, having made transformative gifts for the restoration or repair of the Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Monticello, Montpelier, Mount Vernon, Arlington House, Iwo Jima Memorial, the Kennedy Center, the Smithsonian, the National Archives, the National Zoo, the Library of Congress, and the National Museum of African American History and Culture.
